

Investment Objective

The US Stars Equity fund seeks to generate long term capital growth by investing in a concentrated portfolio of American companies with enduring competitive advantages and a long runway of growth.

We select companies based on our own fundamental research, taking a long-term investment horizon. We do not follow benchmarks and always invest in quality.

Quality for a company means strong competitive positions, operating in good and growing industries, the financial strength to weather adversity and strong management teams with track records of value creation.

We seek to identify undervalued quality growth companies where the scale or persistence of growth is underappreciated by the market and there is the prospect of significant capital growth.

Portfolio Comment

The US Stars Equity fund had a strong start to the year, rising +4% and ahead of the MSCI USA index benchmark which rose +3%. January was marked by President Trump's inauguration and the potential trade tariffs that could be introduced.

There was also some Artificial Intelligence developments which caused some consternation in the stock market and caused Nvidia to fall -11% in the month. We believe that the concerns are unfounded and that Nvidia will retain its leading position. It will increase demand for compute and broaden access to AI, rather than causing demand to fall. However, we had reduced the Nvidia exposure at the end of last year, as there was the possibility of increased volatility in the share price, and this action reduced the negative effect of the share price decline.

On the positive side, Meta rose +18% as it continues to report strong engagement and user trends. It is also one of the first large corporate to incorporate AI into its business, and we continue to see the benefits of this adoption.

Other positive performers in January included Estee Lauder +11% and Dexcom +12%. These were two of the laggards from last year, and they have started with more optimism about their prospects for the year ahead.
